

2022 Inaugural International Women's Spirits Competition

Entry Deadline – May 2nd, 2022
Judging date May 10-11th, 2022

About

Now in its fifteenth year, the prestigious International Women's Wine Competition has added spirits to its lineup, making it the first and only competition of its kind in the United States — possibly in the world. Its mission? To uniquely identify specific wines and spirits that women will enjoy and ultimately purchase.

Based on the knowledge that most of the wine and spirits consumed at home is primarily purchased by women, event founder and president Debra Del Fiorentino started this contest to bring a unique perspective to a judged experience. The decision to include spirits in the judging was made, she says, “in response to the rapidly expanding craft spirits universe. There are so many great producers out there; earning a medal here is one way to grab consumer attention.”
