PR%F Awards sequesters judges from across the United States for a two-day private tasting experience in Las Vegas – Each judge is a key buyer and decision maker in the spirits/wine industries. Our judges – all buyers – come from different facets of the industry: distributors, retail, restaurants, bars, nightclubs, resorts, airlines, liquor stores, box chains, and online distributors. When you enter the PR%F Awards, right out of the gate – buyers and decision makers taste your brand! PR%F Awards is open to all spirits brands – domestic or international, emerging or established favorites.

All winners receive a coveted PR%F Award medal (one for tasting, one for total package, if points merit a win); social media posts including PR%F Award framed graphics announcing that you entered, and winners, ability to use the PR%F Award logo and materials (no added licensing fees to use our graphics), and inclusion in Food and Beverage Magazine – now reaching more than 14 million readers monthly.
